Jill is deeply committed to Etsy's mission to "Keep Commerce Human" for their over 5.5M sellers – the majority of whom are women and businesses of one – and fundamentally believes that good corporate citizenship is key to business success. Jill is as passionate about making Etsy a diverse and equitable workplace as she is about supporting the company's financial goals.

Before joining Etsy, Jill held leadership positions at a variety of companies. She started her career in public service as a sex crimes prosecutor at the Manhattan DA's Office. Jill received a B.A. cum laude from Harvard University, earned her J.D. at UC Hastings College of the Law, and studied international corporate law as a Fulbright Scholar in Mexico.

Jill has called Brooklyn home for almost 30 years. She is deeply engaged in her community, and has donated her time and leadership to support and educate diverse future leaders through mentoring, teaching, and building scholarship programs.

Hon. Velmanette Montgomery (New York State Senator - Retired) is recognized for her effective leadership and steadfast commitment to her constituents of North and Central Brooklyn. As the Chair of the New York State Senate Standing Committee on Children and Families, Senator Montgomery has been committed to helping young people achieve positive outcomes through reform of the state's juvenile justice, foster care and adoptive care systems. Senator Montgomery is the recipient of numerous awards, most recently she received the Barbara M. Clark Kinship Champion Award in recognition of her longtime advocacy on the issue of kinship care.

The New York State Bar Association in 2010 honored Senator Montgomery with the Howard Levine Award For Excellence in Juvenile Justice and Child Welfare.
